

Whole School Spirituality

Theme: Lent - Encountering God on High

Many years ago, having just summited Mont Blanc with a friend of mine, we were descending and stopped for a 5 minute rest at the top of a cliff face. We were just sat on the edge, dangling our legs over, and taking in the view for 5 minutes or so. It was then he cut through the silence by asking me, "So, you're a Catholic right ... so what do you think happens to you when you die?" Somewhat taken aback by the timing of this question (and bearing in mind he had never asked me anything about my faith in the years I had known him) from my atheist friend, I didn't say anything at first. But then I saw him crying and he said, "My dad's dying of cancer and I just wondered..." It was then, I told what I believed and we said a prayer for his dad. It was perhaps the strangest place that I'd ever had a conversation about matters of faith. But that day, for those minutes, through prayer there was an encounter with God ... and strangely on a mountain!

One does not have to climb mountains to encounter God. We simply just have to be willing to meet with Him. The time and place will not always be of our choosing. But in these difficult times, prayer has been a place that many of us have turned to in order to seek Him and ask for His help. So this week, we will focus on the different ways that we, as a community, can encounter God.
